AS UNJUST AND STUPIDGoldman Declares America
Needs New Government
And She'll Not Quit.Hango, Finland, Friday, Jan. 16.—
United States army transport Buford,
having on board 348 radicals deported
from America arrived here at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Finnish pilots could not dock the vessel and a German pilot was summoned.Alexander Berkman and Emma Goldman, who have been considered the leaders of the deportees have declared
they will not remain in Russia but will "return to America to save it."The reds on board the Buford will be taken to the Russian frontier, by United States labor bureau and immigration
officials.After the Buford had been docked, Berkman and Miss Goldman led a procession of radicals down the gang plank,
a large number of persons assembled on
the wharf, gazing curiously at the landing. The reds made up a motley throng, being full of curiosity as to what their future might be,
while there was traces of anxiety lest
they might be attacked, after they had left the protection of their American guards. Finnish authorities will look after the safety of the deportees.After they had landed, Berkman and Miss Goldman talked willingly with newspaper men, asked to give their opinion of their deportation, the latter replied:"It was melodrama to keep it secret."
"It was unfair and stupid," interjected Berkman. "You can't kill an idea
like that. The Czar tried and failed. He is dead and forgotten.""Do you want to overthrow the American government?" Miss Goldman was asked. "Miss Goldman was asked a new government," she answered, "and I hope the election will provide it."It is her intention to return to America as soon as possible. She asserts she became an American citizen by virtue of her marriage to Jacob Kersner at Boston, N. C., in 1887, and declared
the court decree in 1909 cancelling Kersner's certificate of naturalization
was illegal. Miss Goldman was divorced from Kersner in 1889, but she claims
this did not alter her status as a citizen of the United States."As Nietzsche said, 'the test of love is the power of endurance,'" she continued, "that is what will be lost until I return to America. I will not forsake Americans."Asked what her plans were, Miss Goldman said:"I shall not impose my advice upon
the Russian government, but shall remain affiliated with the Bolsheviks. I hold my deportation was an injustice,
and we are not given a chance to prepare for it."She drew a sharp distinction between Bolshevism as it is known in America
and Germany and as it is practiced in Russia and explained the significance of world Bolshevism or anarchy. She asserted it was nearly 200 years old and
meant approximatelywhich disapproves of all governments
and demands equality among all citizens
and a division of all clothing, supplies and products. She evaded making any reply when objections were raised to this program."Bolshevism of any kind, not the war vessels which under the terms of the peace treaty must be handed over to the Allies, have undergone a second "Bataan," but on a smaller scale, according to a telegram received here from Turin by way of Lugano.The dispatch states that the allied naval commission which arrived recently at Cattaro confirms first reports that the Austrian fleet had been seriously disabled.The Austrians were said to have destroyed or removed the principal

parts of the machinery of the ships,
rendering them incapable of navigation
only the hulls remaining in good condition. Repairs, it is said, will require several months before the vessels can be made ready for the sea.The fleet includes one battleship,
three large cruisers, four torpedo cruisers, 12 torpedo boats and some smaller craft. The Austrians are declared to have acknowledged the damage but to have blamed the Czechoslo-vaks and the Jugo Slavs. The ships eventually will be towed to Tau-
lion and Marseilles for repairs.NINE OVERCOME BY GAS BABY GIVES ALARMCleveland, Jan. 17.—Nine persons,
members of two families, one of them
an 18-month-old baby, were overcome
by gas early this morning in their homes. The cries of the baby before it lapsed into unconsciousness, probably saved them from death.Two policemen, who were summoned
by one of the victims before he collapsed, and who revived the victims
after more than an hour's work, were made ill by the fumes and had to be taken to their homes.BERGER HIDES HIS

Former President of Chamber of Deputies
Chief Executive of Republic.Versailles, Jan. 17.—Paul Deschanel
was elected president of France by the national assembly here today.M. Deschanel received 734 votes out of a total of 893. He was former president of the chamber of deputies.There was much talk in the corridors, however, of the nomination of Alexandre Millerand, formerly war minister and now governor of Alsace by the council of the republic.The session was called to order by Leon Bourgeois,
president of the assembly.Marcel Sembat and Rene Viviani, Socialist leaders abstained from voting.
It was learned shortly after the session opened that the Socialists had decided to vote for M. Deschanel, which appeared to place his election beyond doubt.There were 940 senators and deputies entitled to vote but the total participating was expected to be 916.Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain came to Versailles for the ceremony.The roll for the vote was read by the secretary. As each member's name was called he walked forth to the presidential platform, mounted the steps
and received from the usher a small
white ball about the size of an ordinary marble. He then advanced to the voting receptacle, which looked
much like an American ballot box,
dropped his ball into the wooden slot
and then handed his ball to another
usher who kept tally of the members
voting.As General Castelnau, the most eminent soldier elected to the chamber of deputies voted, he was greeted with tremendous cheering.When M. Deschanel's name was called there was a moment of great
tension, but he did not present himself to vote.

SANCTIONED BY OFFICERFederal Court Orders Full Investigation of Alle-

for carrying into effect orders of Federal Judge John C. Pollock that a "sweeping and comprehensive" investigation be made into conditions at the federal disciplinary barracks at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, were begun today
by Fred Robertson, United States district attorney for Kansas.Mr. Robertson said his plans as yet were entirely tentative. He added, however, that he expected to go fully into charges made yesterday at the trial in Kansas City, Kansas, of all former inmates of the barracks that for several months in 1919 the institution was governed by a "soviet" committee of prisoners and that their regime, sanctioned
by the officer who was commandant at the time, developed into a reign of terror during which crime flourished and prisoners were mistreated.The committee, it was declared, came into existence as a part of the settlement of a general strike called in protest against the release of 113 conscientious objectors.As evidence that Judge Pollock believed the barracks investigation should jury in the trial at which evidence was brought out. Judge Pollock said:That portion of the case which to the mind of the court is one of the most unusual and singular things that has ever been heard in the history of the government, one of the most unusual situations ever presented in a court of justice, is this: They had a strike in the military prison, the convicts refused
to work with the approval of the government this institution was turned over to be run by a committee elected by the prisoners. Those there for punishment operated the prison. As a result of the situation there grew up what any reasonable man should have known would result, a rule of anarchy, corruption and slugging—in short, a mob rule."If this condition did exist it ought never to be possible for it to exist again.
Somebody in this government is responsible and they should answer. It is the judgment of this court is worth anything."Ordering of the investigation put the case on trial into the background. The 11 defendants were charged with being involved in a widespread plot to produce and circulate from the barracks fraudulent government treasury certificates.
Nine of the defendants were discharged
by the jury on the ground that they had not been connected with the manufacture of the certificates. No order had been returned early today in the cases
of Louis M. Osterweiss, of New Haven, Conn., known as "the millionaire kid,"
and John Conway, of Hattiesburg, Miss.,
members of the "soviet" committee and charged with being the ring leaders of the certificate plot.ANNEXATION IS meeting held this morning decided not grounds.Two propositions were before the board for leasing, one by George M. For-berg of the Auditorium theater and other by Emmet R. Deferbaugh of Buckeye Lake park. Each asked for a lease for a period of five years. To make such a lease profitable to the lessee

the board would have to agree to operate a dancing pavilion on Sundays as well
as a skating rink and vaudeville entertainments. Board members did not favor it and said their action in rejecting the two propositions was in accordance with the wishes of the people residing in their various communities.It was also decided to lease the hotel
in the park grounds and to place the care of the grounds in the hands of the superintendent of the park, who will employ caretakers to that purpose. A committee consisting of Treasurer O. G. Warrington, Secretary Harry
D. Hale and Ground Superintendent N.
E. Vanatta, was named to lease the hotel property, the lease of the present
tenant expiring April 1.

rioting in the German capital,
which brought about a declaration
of martial law throughout Germany by the Ebert government,
depict conditions which indicate
that the present Ebert government is nearing its end. It was freely predicted when the armistice was signed that the government offi-

could not long hold sway. Premier Bauer of the Ebert cabinet shocked official circles during the rioting when he announced that

claiming martial law President Ebert announced that Minister of residing two miles southeast of Mar-

yesterday afternoon when his shotgun
was accidentally discharged, blowing off the top of his head.The young man informed his father
that he would go out and look after his traps and left the house shortly after 2 o'clock, taking along his shot gun.
When he did not return at dusk, his parents were not alarmed as he made frequent trips into the woods and along
the creek, being very fond of sport with rod and gun.After the supper hour had passed his parents then became alarmed and searching party was organized, and shortly after Harry Walters and Frank Colville discovered his tracks and followed them to a farm along the Waka-tomka creek. They followed the track of the creek and near a rock projecting over the bank found the young man's body with the top of his head shot away. He had either stumbled over the rock and discharged the hammer of the gun and caught it. A sled was secured and the body was taken to Martinsburg where it was prepared for burial.ROBBERIES MARK LAST

drove six trainmen into a shanty and took between $75,000 and $100,000

Undertaker to Cremate Body and Scatter Ashes on Waters of Buckeye Lake.Despondent over domestic relations, George W. Abbott, 55, turnkey at the city prison, attempted suicide shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon by shooting himself in the head with a revolver. As a result he is now having between life and death at the City Hospital. Physicians state that it is highly probable that he will recover
and that if he does he will be blind in the right eye and that his mind will probably be affected.Abbott lived with his mother at the city prison since separating from his wife a little over three weeks ago. Late yesterday he told his mother that he would go up and take a nap and not to call him as early as usual. She waited until 4 o'clock and went to his room but he was not there and she looked for a room on the second floor
formerly used as a court room and was horrified to find him with a revolver
in each hand and his head lying in a pool of blood. She ran down stairs and summoned aid and then phoned the patrol station. Chief James Sheridan and Wagonman James Donnelly hurried to the city prison in the patrol wagon.When they arrived they found Abbott
in a chair. Chief Sheridan asked him
why he had attempted to take his life.
For an answer Abbott tried to whistle
and tapped the floor with his foot.
Bradley's ambulance took him to the City Hospital where Dr. Homer J.

entered the head over the right eye,
went through his head, severing the

Full Inquiry Into Ad-

Sims told the senate committee investigating naval awards today that when he was ordered to England in March, 1917, just before the United States entered the war, he was instructed by the navy department "not to let the British pull the wool over your eyes," and that
"we would just as soon fight the British as the Central Powers."The admiral also charged that American naval headquarters in London did not receive co-operation from the navy department and that the department
did not arrive at any decided plan of action until 10 months after he arrived in London. He added that "it was 10 months before we really came to the aid of the allies or acted on their recommendations."Admiral Sims' testimony was in the form of a letter to Secretary Daniels, entitled "Some Naval Lessons of the Great War," which Mr. Daniels received several days ago. The letter criticized the department for attempting to administer the details of action
by the American naval forces overseas
and alleged that the department demanded that it be permitted to pass
fully on all charges, even those regarding action against the enemy.When Admiral Sims finished reading
the letter, Chairman Hale announced that the full naval committee would be asked either to empower the present sub-committee to investigate Ad-

Drastic Law Framed to

the law of the nation today.
The constitutional amendment making
it illegal to manufacture, sell or give away liquors containing over one per cent
alcohol went into effect at midnight last night and today violators faced prosecution under one of the most drastic
laws ever promulgated to fight a crime
other than a felony.In Washington today ago made "dry"
by a special act of congress, and "dry"
by war time prohibition, the coming into effect of the new law meant little
and the occasion passed without unusual incident, except for celebration
meetings held under the auspices of reform organizations. As the largest of these,
participated in by reformers who gathered here from all over the country,
Secretary of Navy Daniels and William
J. Bryan were the principal speakers.While those responsible for prohibition met in jollification at its coming and congratulated one another on a task well done, those charged with the enforcement of the law were at work
on the business side of the prohibition
—that of perfecting details of their gi-gantic undertaking.Both the department of justice and the bureau of internal revenue, the two government agencies on which develops the responsibility of seeing that the law is obeyed, last night received
their final instructions when Secretary Glavin approved the regulations under which they are to work.Officials were anticipating unnumerable tangles to be unraveled, not because of the linking up with state and local authorities of the enforcement machinery they felt matters had been greatly simplified. One of the greatest problems confronting them is that of the disposal of the large quantities of distilled liquors remaining in bonded warehouses, the final fate of this has not been determined.NEALE WANTS MORE MONEY

NEWARK HIGH WINS 2 GAMES

First and Second Teams Both Cop Victories In Games With Zanesville Basketball Teams Friday Night.

Newark high school scored a double victory Friday night in Zanesville when both the first and second teams defeated the Zanesville teams. Both games were hard fought all the way through but both teams emerged victorious by a safe margin. During the last four minutes of the game between the first teams the local team ran the score up to a safe margin by some clever teamwork and goal shooting. Newark routers were on the side lines to cheer their teams on to victory. The second team won by a score of 27-14, the first by 25-14.

In the game between the second teams three goals were made by the Newark boys in the first five minutes of the game and the ball remained in Newark's territory the greater part of the time. Fitzgibbon made several long shots which greatly helped in bringing up the score. Quinn's guarding was one of the features of the game and he was a big factor in keeping down the score of the Zanesville team. The game ended with the score standing 27-14 in favor of the Newark second team.

The two first teams were pretty evenly matched but Newark showed up superior in goal shooting which proved to be the winning factor in the game. At the end of the first half Newark led by a score of 6-11 but Zanesville rallied and came within two points of tying the score. The visitors, however, held fast and soon put the score out of danger.

The first score was made by Harlow of Newark but Zanesville retaliated and shot a basket and foul in quick succession making the score 3-2 in favor of Zanesville. This was the only time during the game that Zanesville and Newark kept a good lead during the rest of the first half.

At the beginning of the second half Zanesville rallied and soon brought their score up close to that of the visitors but the Newark boys held and Zanesville was unable to score more than 14 points. During the last four minutes Wilson, captain of the Newark team, raced down the floor three times, each time for a basket. With the score 25-14 the game closed and the Newark team went off the floor victorious. While the Zanesville team was not equal to the visiting team, they gave the Newark boys a scare by their fighting spirit in the first half.

ENGLAND MAY ACT AGAINST BOLSHEVISTS

London, Jan. 16.—The impression prevailed here today that in the conference at Paris of Premier Lloyd George, Winston Spencer Churchill, the war minister, Walter Hume Long, first lord of the admiralty, Baron Beatty, commander of the grand fleet, and Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson, chief of the imperial staff, it would be decided to take some defensive action against Bolshevik aggression.

The Persian government has requested Great Britain to state what assistance can be given Persia in the event of a Bolshevik invasion and what steps action by Persia would accord with the British policy.

An unconfirmed report from Berlin says that Enver Pasha, former Turkish war minister who was recently crowned king of Kurdistan, has been in Berlin and has promised to support the British question of whether he was trying to enlist the support of German extremist elements in carrying out a restoration between the Turks and the Bolsheviks.

$300 INVESTMENT BRINGS $10,000

Carter Oil Company Pays $250,000 For Gusher Near New Straitsville—Logan People Benefitted.

The Carter Oil company, a subsidiary of the Standard Oil company, and active in the local field was interested in a big oil deal at New Straitsville. The Carter company, which is the purchasing department of the Standard, bought the big gusher near New Straitsville, involving one of the largest oil deals in the Ohio oil fields.

The well was largely owned by patrons connected with the Kempel bank of Logan. The capital stock of the oil company was only $3,000. About $7,000 was realized from the sale of oil in a few days. The well was then sold for $250,000 cash. A quarter of a million dollars from a small investment. Small investors of $300 realized nearly $10,000 on it.

COAL SHORTAGE SHUTS DOWN STEEL MILL

Youngstown, Jan. 17.—The Youngstown Sheet and Tube company, employing nearly 15,000 men, began shutting down its plant here today owing to a shortage of coal. The sheet mill was closed early this morning and officials said that the entire plant will be idle by night. Some of the tube mills, it is thought, may be placed in operation again Monday.

The coal shortage, which has been causing curtailment of steel mill operations in nearly all plants here is likely to cause further shutdowns, company officials said.

Mills of the Carnegie Steel company, the only United States steel company plants in the valley, are not affected.

CANTON WRESTLER BEATS ZBYSZKO

Youngstown, Jan. 17.—Before the largest crowd that ever witnessed a wrestling match here, Wladek Zbyszko lost a handicap match last night to Jim London, champion Greek wrestler. Zbyszko, named to be the London, twice in 15 minutes, but did not get a fall in that time. In a sensational preliminary Mort Henderson of Altoona, the original "masked marvel," won two falls from Steve Bello. Bello, in 15 minutes, 37 seconds and one minute and 16 seconds respectively.

WANT CLEMENCEAU HONORED.
Paris, Jan. 17.—A number of the senators and deputies are circulating among the members of parliament a resolution to confer upon Premier Clemenceau the title of "Savior of the country." It is proposed to pass an enabling act to make this title official.

Subjugate.
When an army was conquered in Roman times, it was obliged to "pass under the yoke" as an evidence of defeat at the hands of the enemy. This "yoke" was sometimes made by setting up two spears and putting a third across the top. Our English word subjugate (derived from Latin "sub," or under, and "jugum," or yoke) thus contains in its composition a spectacular custom from the military life of the Romans.

Reaping Machines.
Over two hundred different reaping machines have been patented. The first one was invented in the eighteenth century, but failed through its intricacies. The Rev. Patrick Bell appears to have originated the first practical machine of this class in 1820, and it was first used in 1827, the principle being that on which the best machines are now constructed.

WHITE FIELD IS ICE RINK SITE

Half of Football Gridiron Covered With Fine Ice Through Efforts of Y. M. C. A. and Boy Scouts.

Nearly one-half of the football gridiron at White athletic field is a glare of ice following the combined efforts of Industrial Secretary W. L. Grieser, of the Y. M. C. A. and K. L. Brown, head of the Boy Scouts. The field was flooded Friday morning and following last night's drop in temperature a fine skating surface resulted.

Thursday afternoon a detail of nearly two score Boy Scouts reported at the field and under the direction of Grieser and Brown, a bank of snow was thrown up around the entire field.

When the water was turned into the circle Friday it was found that the west end of the field was so high that a higher bank would be necessary if the entire field was flooded. For the present, the half of the field now covered with ice will suffice. If it is found that the crowd warrants the action, arrangements may be made to flood the entire field.

Grieser and Brown expressed appreciation of the cooperation received from the fire department for the use of the fire hose and for the help of a detail of firemen who handled the hose and the hydrant.

A Real Home--And How To Own One

Resources Over $2,800,000.00.

A real home is not made over night nor is it won by get-rich-quick methods. The ideal home, the home of your dreams, is not made by dreams but is the result of hard work and saving.

The trials and struggles that you may go through to save and own your home are what make it dear to you. The majority of people secure their homes in just this way and it is a fact that they are usually happier in their first home even though they be fortunate enough to become wealthy and have a palatial residence later on.

It is not necessary to have a lot of money to own a home. If you have enough for the first payment we will loan you the balance and you can pay us in easy monthly installments.

We also loan money on liberal terms to those who wish to buy or improve farm property.

ABBOTT

was unconscious and has remained so since he was found.

On a stand near Abbott in the old court room was a note addressed to his son, Curtis Abbott, residing in West Main street. It read:

"Curtis: I talked to Mr. Bazler and you call him immediately and he will take care of my body. Good by, your loving father."

On the opposite side of the paper Abbott had written:

"Have become disgusted with life as everything seems to go against me. Don't you and mother worry. Life is not worth living, so I end it all. Your loving father, George W. Abbott."

Abbott went to the Bazler undertaking establishment yesterday morning and remarked to Thomas A. Bazler that in case anything should happen to him he wished his body taken to Cincinnati and cremated. He said he wanted his ashes scattered on Duckeye Lake.

Bazler remarked: "We won't need to be in a hurry, for you are good for a long time yet." To that Abbott replied: "Well, you never tell; I might get shot."

Abbott has talked in a despondent mood lately to several of his brother officers. To Patrolmen Hurbaugh and T. H. Stewart he remarked only a couple of days ago that life was hardly worth living and that it was nothing but constant trouble. Hurbaugh and Stewart endeavored to cheer him up, but without success.

Brooding over his troubles undoubtedly caused him to become temporarily insane, making him mentally irresponsible. Abbott was a man of cheerful disposition and always had a pleasant word and a smile for everyone.

Abbott was a machinist by profession and learned his trade at the Scheidt shops in this city. Later he engaged in the butchering business and then in the insurance business. He accepted a position on the police force 13 years ago this month. He was in fair circumstances and owned several valuable pieces of real estate in Granville street near Sixteenth.

would mean a population of 50,000 for Newark. Mr. Manufacturer, Mr. Merchant and Mr. Farmer it is up to you, you must produce and sell the best articles at the lowest price to compete with out of town dealers. You should even be able to give a better article at a lower price, because you can knock off the added expense of shipping, solicitation and advertising. The best advertisement is a satisfied customer. See that your clerks are courteous, that no article is misrepresented, that if there is a flaw it is so stated, and if there is a just complaint see that it is adjusted."

Mr. Swisher then enumerated many of the local industries and business endeavors which would compete favorably with any products of a similar line.

Others taking part in the discussion were O. J. Barnes, E. D. Leach, William C. Hall, Fred C. Evans, John A. Chilcote, Charles C. Metz, Jesse A. Flory, F. Lender, Rev. Carlos Hanks and L. C. Metz. A number of women attended the meeting. Judge Robbins Hunter presided.

Manager Leach of the Chamber of Commerce told of the housing problem and stated that about 60 had responded to the Chamber's plea for homes. About thirty of these have already been filled, and many strangers will be locating in the city in the next few weeks.

The Austin Construction company starts work next week on the Halladay plant and new employees for the Moore Tool company are arriving daily. "Newark will need 1,000 more houses in the next year," said Mr. Leach.

EVENTS THAT MADE HISTORY

Annularities of Independence Declaration and Landing of the Pilgrims Are Both Near.

Our country approaches two notable dates in its history.
Philadelphia has already begun to talk about a great international celebration for 1926 to commemorate the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of independence.

But next year comes a still more historic birthday. It will be 300 years next November since the pilgrims landed in America, writes "Gleaner" in the Philadelphia Press.

People refer constantly to them as the "Pilgrim Fathers," but as Roland Usher, in his book points out, "Fathers" is scarcely a justified title.

Of the 102 persons who came over in the Mayflower, only nine had reached forty years of age. But two of them were fifty.

Thirty-nine were children and there were 19 grownup women, one of whom was unmarried. As there were 25 bachelors on board the Mayflower, that lone maiden probably was never a widow.

The three most famous characters, Bradford, Allen and Miles Standish, were all young fellows, aged respectively thirty-one, twenty-one and thirty-six.

One of the most fatal epidemics on record smote that little colony and in four months 44 of the 102 pilgrims were dead. It was a disease akin to tuberculosis.

TIMBER SUPPLY RUNNING LOW
Government Planning Measures to Protect Supply on Hand and Encourage Future Growth.

A larger program of public acquisition of forests by the federal government, states and municipalities, and protection and perpetuation of forest growth on all privately owned lands which may not be used better for agriculture, is recommended in the annual report of the forester of the department of agriculture.

This policy is made necessary, the report said, by the diminishing timber supply. The rate of depletion of the forests is more than twice what is being produced by growth in a form serviceable for purposes other than firewood.

"Already the supplies of all the great Eastern centers of production are approaching exhaustion, with the exception of the South," the report said, "and even there most of the mills have not over ten to fifteen years' supply of virgin timber."

SALTON SEA IS DISAPPEARING

Popularity That the Land It Has Covered Will Be Soon Available for Agriculture.

An inland sea which, according to geologists, has changed from sea to desert, and back again to sea, at least fifty times since its inception, is one of the wonders of the Imperial valley in California. At the present time the Salton sea, which is 100 feet below the ocean's level, is receding from its banks at the rate of approximately a mile a year. Today the sea is 18 miles long and nine miles wide at its widest point. In the heat of the torrid season the temperature in its neighborhood is from 10 to 20 degrees cooler than that of the surrounding country and outdoor dances are held on one of the abandoned fish-piers left high and dry by the receding waters. The Salton sea is situated in the very heart of the principal date-producing region of America. The land left bare by the retreating waters is eagerly sought by agriculturists, who stake their claims far out into the water in anticipation of further recessions. The soil is of salt-increased adobe clay and very fertile. Mud volcanoes, miniature geysers and bubbling "paintpots" attract many tourists to the spot. The quality of the volcanic "paintpots" is declared to rival the best European sienna and amber. Utilization of this new-found color supply may soon render the continuation of European imports of such pigment unnecessary.

MADE BOAT FROM SIDE CAR

Enthusiastic Duck Hunter Found Valuable Use for His Motorcycle Attachment.

On the opening day of the duck season at Baldwin Lake, Cal., last fall, a strange craft was sighted in the ell-grass of the shooting grounds. Its occupant was known to have ridden a motorcycle in more than 150 miles of mountain and desert road, and then to have been so unfortunate as to find all the boats gone. When he came in that night with his limit of birds, it was seen that he had made a queer but efficient duck boat out of his motorcycle side car.

Wood pligs closed the bolt holes where it was removed from the frame, and a can of pitch, judiciously applied, sealed all possible leaks. Rock ballast of some sixty pounds steadied the somewhat cranky craft, and its inconspicuousness aided the ingenious sportsman in securing an unusual bag of birds. So well pleased was he with the adventure that now he contemplates constructing a real combination side car and boat.—Mechanics Magazine.

Have Earned Place in History.
They failed to get overseas as a unit in the recent world conflict, but the famous Hell-for-Lather Fort Garrys, who charged into the blue at Cambrai, the Stratheona horse, the Royal Canadian dragoons and the Canadian Mounted rifles were filled with rankers who had worn the red tunic of the old Royal Northwest Mounted Police. The police have not been empire-builders, but they have smoothed the road for empire and kept it smooth. Western Canada is western Canada today largely because of them. Though the old name under which they won fame and glory is now numbered with forgotten yesterdays, it will live forever in the history of the Canadian west as a symbol of efficiency, loyalty, heroism and law fearlessly enforced.

To Think and to Know.
A Charleston housewife being suddenly deserted by her cook advertised for another, stipulating that applicants must bring good references. The only response to the advertisement was a very fat and very black old woman who seemed promising until she was asked for her references.

"Der, honey, Ah done tore up dem references," she responded.
"Destroyed your references? How unusual. Don't you realize that that must cause people to suspect that you are not a good servant?"
"Tasum, maybe dat's so," the applicant agreed. "Yo der 'speck Ah ain't er good serbent, but er Ah had brung dem references yo'd know Ah was crazy!"

DOG ANSWERS DOORBELL

There is one dog in London which, were its duties known, we should all join in voting an extra ration. It is the care of an entire household. All the human members of the family are deaf and dumb.

The dog answers the door. That is to say, when it hears a knock or a ring, it conveys the information to its betters by barks, which are detected by the opening and shutting of its mouth, by wagging its tail, and in the last resort by gently pawing its master or mistress and running toward front or back door.—London Chronicle.

AND IF IT WASN'T

The man who had served throughout the war as a private in the base hospital at Angers was loud in his scorn of a neighbor who hadn't gone into the service at all. A friend let him rave on till the Angers soldier had used the word slacker. Then he said:

"That's right, give it to him. All he did during the war was hang on to a nice soft job as testing pilot for the Curtiss people. All he had to do was fly each machine long enough to see if it was safe for one of our aviators."

Griffing, charter members, received the obligation. First and second degrees were conferred on 15 of the 38 candidates for membership who had qualified. A bob sled ride to Newark, the movies, a return ride and an oyster supper at the home of Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Loveless furnished entertainment last evening for Mayor and Mrs. C. D. Coons, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Stanforth, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Wright, Mrs. Nettie Chesbire, and Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Loveless.

Chinese Masons Celebrated.
A sea lion, a fusillade of crackers, a banquet, and the raising of the Chinese flag, indicated to the Victorian town of Echuca that a branch of the Chinese Masonic society had been formed. Chinese from all parts of Victoria attended the ceremony and the mayor and councillors of Echuca were guests. The Chinese master of ceremonies was interviewed by returned soldiers who objected to the flying of the Chinese flag alone. Australian and British flags were at once hoisted to the top of the flagpole.

Soldiers Left Boots Behind.
Mystery surrounds the "dumps" of books which are said to be lying in various camps in France, awaiting disposal. At one camp 400,000 volumes are said to have accumulated, and there are reported to be still larger collections at other camps.

Inquiries in official quarters and among the organizations which sent out books to the troops during the war have failed to trace the owners of these derelict volumes.

To Develop French Water Power.
A bill for the canalization of the Rhone and the employment of water power was introduced in the French chamber of deputies on August 2. The cost of the scheme is estimated at 2,500,000,000 francs ($402,500,000) and the total power to be obtained will not be less than the equivalent obtained from 5,000,000 tons of coal, or one-fifth of the coal production of France for 1915.

Magdalena Bay is said to be the finest harbor between Panama and the Golden Gate.

MADE AND MANUFACTURED IN NEWARK BY THE

Newark Stamping and Foundry Company

PREFERRED STOCK, NON-ASSESSABLE, TAX FREE IN OHIO, CUMULATIVE, PAYING SEVEN PER CENT PER ANNUM, IS NOW BEING SOLD AT PAR BY

The J. N. PUGH CO.

WHY THESE PRODUCTS ARE MARKETABLE.

MAY-FIEBERGER FURNACE

Established in Akron in 1867, purchased last year by the Newark Stamping and Foundry Company, including the good will of the company. The local company by building a new addition will attempt to keep up with the orders that exceed the present output.

A central heating plant is the natural tendency. Furnaces are installed in homes, churches, halls, schools.

THOMPSON INDESTRUCTIBLE ROSE CLAMP

Output now 50,000 a day. Is the only clamp constructed in two distinct parts, hence easy of adjustment. The following are some of the automobiles using this clamp: Ford, Paige, Allen, Overland, Saxon, Dodge. Seventy-five per cent of the cars made use this clamp, and ninety per cent of the jobbers buy it.

Clamp used also on locomotives, tractors—any place where rubber hose is to be clamped to metal.

EXPANSION IS NECESSARY, if the company is to keep up with the unprecedented demand for its products. A $75,000 order for May-Fieberger from one of the distributors was received this week.

YOUR MONEY INVESTED in the preferred stock of this company will help build a $25,000 concrete warehouse to be used for storage of raw materials, and will provide more factory and foundry room.

THE NEWARK STAMPING AND FOUNDRY COMPANY owns all its buildings, real estate and equipment. Its products are thoroughly marketable, demand exceeds the output—hence a safe, conservative investment—moreover a Newark Concern.

The Town Boosting movement and Board of Trade organization of 10 to 15 years ago, devoted their principal energy to working for new manufacturing industries. The similar movement of today has gone on to a new point of view.

The old time board of trade had its slogan "A bigger and busier city." It tried to secure growth and development, before it had proved that the town was worthy of it.

The modern organization, which in many places takes the name of a Chamber of Commerce, adopts its slogan "A better city." It believes that if you make a better town, growth and development will be almost automatic.

The modern Town Boosting movement is glad to welcome new industries, and it does its best to get them. It sees the most hope in the promising young men of its own community, who want to start some industry in a small way, and who if successful will remain in the town. Many small concerns thus assisted grow to become great industries.

Modern Town Promotion urges the people to boost the home town, to say a good word for it every chance they get. But if a town has been slow to take up new ideas, all of the boosting they can do won't amount to much.

But if a town shows civic spirit, if it tries to provide the facilities of modern life, you can't stop its growth. Business men who have dealings with the place, travelling salesmen and other visitors, young people who come from there, people who move away, all spread the news that it is a hustling place. Newspaper articles describing its activities are generally copied. A progressive town finds that it has become widely known in a very short time.

SOCIETY GUSH.
The big metropolitan papers make fun of the country paper, with its personal about Farmer Smith who has just painted his barn, and the small city dailies, with their many letters from neighboring villages. Then they print columns of silly detail regarding the social higher-ups.

Every Sunday the society editors dwell lovingly upon the costume of Miss Jones, with her white satin and iridescent sequins, Miss Smith, with her apricot chiffon taffeta with silver lace and morning glories, Mrs. Robinson, with her gown of lavender net, and girdle of pale pink and blue ribbon, etc., etc.

The absurd thing about metropolitan journalism is that it picks out some narrow circle of the alleged Four Hundred, calls it "society," records its doings with obsequious detail. Meanwhile the mass of hard working people are ignored unless they get into the police court.

When you read that Farmer Smith has painted his barn, you learn that something has been done to improve the community and put it on a better economic basis. It is worth mentioning, and Farmer Smith should have his picture in the paper.

But when you read how the Four Hundred are parading around in their party clothes, you read about something that is of no benefit to the community, and much of which represents mere extravagant spending. It is of no more significance that Mrs. Gotrox has a new party dress, than that Mrs. Contassat has a new checked apron. Both are equally worthy of being mentioned in the newspaper. Also Mrs. Contassat is doing good work with the apron, while Mrs. Gotrox may be wasting her husband's money.

Wherefore if you want to get real rustic provincialism, buy a big metropolitan Sunday newspaper, and read its society gush.

THE HORSELESS AGE.
Will the breeding of horses stop, and is the horseless age practically here?
All indications are that the horse industry has declined since the last census was taken. The Illinois Department of Agriculture figures, for instance, show that last year there were issued in that state 6294 licenses to horses and jacks for breeding purposes. In 1912 the number of such licenses was 9677. This is a decline of more than a third in only seven years.

Almost anywhere you go, the numbers of horses on the roads now exceeds the horses drawn vehicle.
Yet there will always be rocky and hilly land and rough roads, where horses can be handled better than a motor. The life of the horse will always be longer than that of the motor. As the country grows more wealthy, more people will have both motors and horses. The horseless age will never come, and breeders can feel confident that a large number will always be needed.

If you would know the value of money, go borrowing, and he that goes borrowing goes a-borrowing—Benjamin Franklin.

Travel.
My soul today is far away.
A change of scene I sought;
And consequently just today
I took a train of thought.

Making Assurance Doubly Sure.
Aunt Cullin says—Ohie Sull's boy, Will, is a-cleeking in Hi Price's store an' I went in there this morning to get a few things for Sunday dinner. Hi he were at the desk an' Will were a-tyin up a lot of groceries. First as he got done 'an' come up to see if I wanted anything or no, Ohie, not a-cleeking me, which they was a few bar's betwixt us, he says, "Will, did you charge them there grapes agin Fitt Plenty?" he says, "Yes, sir, I th' so," says Will, "Well," says Hi, "you charge 'em again; you can't be two sure about a thing o' that kind," he says.

We're Not So Particular.
We do not like canned pork and beans. In our home they are banned. And father says this simply means They're "canned," because they're cunied.

What's the Matter With Newark?
Mr. Sinclair Lewis doesn't like us! He confides this fact to the readers of the Saturday Evening Post and condemns us under three indictments:
I. The first hotel to which Mr. Lewis went, after reaching Newark in an automobile, was not serving meals.
II. A clerk at this hotel did not seem vitally interested in Mr. Lewis and directed him to an indifferent restaurant.
III. A waitress at this restaurant, chewed gum.

Further incriminating evidence is offered in the fact that the waitress was thick and her waist was thin, though we hardly see how Mr. Lewis could hold Newark responsible for that. She chewed gum, but according to his own statement, there was nothing else in the restaurant fit to chew.

Yet, if Newark does not make a pleasant impression upon strangers, it is a deplorable condition and should be remedied if possible. The Melting Pot invites short contributions containing rational suggestions.

There is a sufficient number of hospitable, kindly citizens in Newark to give character to the town. How can they best do it?
Kindness Rewarded.
Speak kindly to the little hen
And feed her well, we beg;
Perhaps, dear reader, now and then
She may give you an egg.

Did You Know?
That Benjamin Franklin was born January 17th, 1706? He was born in Boston and was one of a family of seven children. He taught himself to write by reading, and afterwards producing in his own language the papers from Addison's Spectator. He learned the printer's trade, and when about twenty years of age opened a printing establishment of his own in Philadelphia. Franklin's autobiography stands first among works of its kind in American literature. Some critics have called it "the equal of Robinson Crusoe," one of the few ever-lasting books in the English language. In 1776, at the age of 70, Franklin became commissioner to the court of France, where he remained until 1785. When he died in 1790 the American Congress and the National Assembly of France went into mourning.

We Can Depend Upon Bill.
Dear Callie:
Looney Edmund, cowardly man.
Called me names and then he ran;
Lost his courage and conceit,
With me he could not compete.
You tell me if he gets gay,
Cornin' snooping be stain gay,
I'll just chase him off again.

Married Strangers

LIV.—Keitha Scores.
Keitha was secretly amused at her own assurance. Her cool statement implying abundant faith in her own charm did a very grave doubt of the existence of that very quality, but Bennett could never have guessed it from her manner.
She regarded him smilingly in the best of humor. He was plainly piqued. "Betty and I have always been regular pals," he returned to the encounter with elaborate carelessness.
"I always knew you had good taste even in the selection of your woman friends," responded Keitha with a bright smile.
"We were pretty crazy about each other at one time," Bennett continued reminiscently. "As late as the winter before the war we were engaged for a time. I hope you don't think I am disloyal to Betty in giving you this confidence," he added hastily.
"My dear," reproached Keitha softly. "I appreciate your confidence and I am sure Miss Arnold need never suspect that I know it."
She smiled into the dark of the San Francisco streets as she thought with what glee Betty Arnold would welcome her knowing it.
"Betty is the sort that rather gets into a fellow's blood," Bennett went on, stubbornly determined to get something more than a polite smile from Keitha. "She's darned hard to forget."
"But why?" insisted Keitha, "it's vivid pictures like hers that make the desert of acquaintanceship less grey."
"That's a pretty thought," mused Bennett. "Betty would like that—she's had about every other type of complication until she's rather spoiled. I am sure Keitha could well believe it and she had her doubts about Betty's appreciation of such a one from her, but she only added:
They mean that Europe will be on its feet by January 1, 1921, and working like tigers to capture export trade and produce their own means of subsistence.
And that will mean that the era of high prices, inflation, extravagance and low production in the United States will have to end. If the United States is going to keep its business, it must produce at reasonable prices, work hard, and put money into the development of the country instead of into extravagant living.
"Baying at Home" was the theme discussed at last night's dinner session of the Newark Chamber of Commerce. The discussion was led by Harry Swisher in an admirable way and was participated in by a dozen well known men. The topic was considered from every angle and will no doubt be productive of good.
Newark 50,000 in three years—that's the slogan and present indications are that it will come to pass. The industrial outlook for this city was never so bright as it is today.
The report of the Home Service section of the American Red Cross shows that services were rendered to 1265 families during the year just ended. It.

FUN ON THE ICE

TELEPHONE DIRECTORY VS. ENCYCLOPEDIA.

Editor of the Advocate.—They seem to be few people left in the U. S. that still think we wasn't justified or something declaring war on Germany. But I guess these birds would feel different if they stopped to think that it was the house is the latest one from the Louisiana was a crime what about the invention of the telephone which comes from the 2 Greek words (tele, meaning far off, and phone meaning sound, and maybe its on acct. of me living in Greenwich, which isn't far off from the Sound, why maybe that is why the telephone service is so—well you know.

When a man stops to think that the telephone was invented by a German why can't he help but believe the rest about them for instants inventing tear gas and etc., but not only that but it also shows how vs. democracy they were when they invented something that nobody only the liasure class can use because for inst. I and you couldn't never afford it even if we only figured our time at 10 cts. per hr. I wish nobody gets as little as that now days only the president of Harvard college or a soldier or something, because for instants if I am out here in Greenwich and want to talk back to somebody in N. Y. city, why it wouldn't cost me about $2.00 dollars to go down there and see them where if I telephoned it would be .35 cents for the call and 2 days to put it through and if I worked on a 8 hr. basis at 10 cts. per hr. why that would be a total of $1.60 for the 2 days that it took to put the telephone call through where I could go down and see them and get back in 3 hrs. or some such figure.

But in the case of the liasure class it's different, the only real reason they half to do the whole yr. a round is make out their income tax blanks which only takes 3 mos. to figure out how they can beat the govt. and if it wasn't for the telephone they wouldn't know what to do with the rest of their time where as now when they get tired of poker and bridge and etc. and have got a few days left on their hands why all as they half to do to kill some time is try and get somebody on the telephone.

A substitute for the Saloon.
But I don't want my genial readers to think this crabby article means that I don't hold no brief for the telephone company. On the other hand if it wasn't for a German inventing the telephone why they wouldn't of no American invented the telephone directory which is the greatest institution we got left here from a amusement of view since the saloon was wiped out and the purpose of this letter is to point out the advantages of having a telephone directory in the home for birds that can't afford to butcher shop and taxi cab Co. and Mr. Quan who lones you money, and also the N. Y. city telephone directory of May 2, 1919, and I suppose if I live here a couple more yrs. they will give me a better look of 1919 and keep me up to date.

So I will half to prove my point if any by quoting from the N. Y. city telephone directory of May 2, 1919 as follows as they say:
In the first place it says that useful information can be found on Page 17. So you turn to Page 17 and the first thing that strikes you in the eyeball is a ad with says we sell artificial limbs that fit. Well, suppose that some morning you was to wake up and have a criving for a artificial limb that fit and you didn't know how to go about it to get one and they wasn't no telephone directory in the home, why where would you be at. You would half to call up and ask for information which is another word for practical joke and they would finally give you a firm that sold artificial limbs that didn't come near fitting and you would have one and half to walk down the st. all out of kilter and people would laugh at you and make you feel like a fool.

No Giv's Tops for Him
Also they have got on this same page a list of dog specialists and people that ex in carpets and says they refinish beds and firms that sells glass tops for furniture as if a person like myself didn't have enough furniture that my 4 kids could break without having glass tops on them. But if I didn't have a telephone directory in the home why I couldn't look in the main part of it and find so many guys that didn't sell glass tops for furniture.

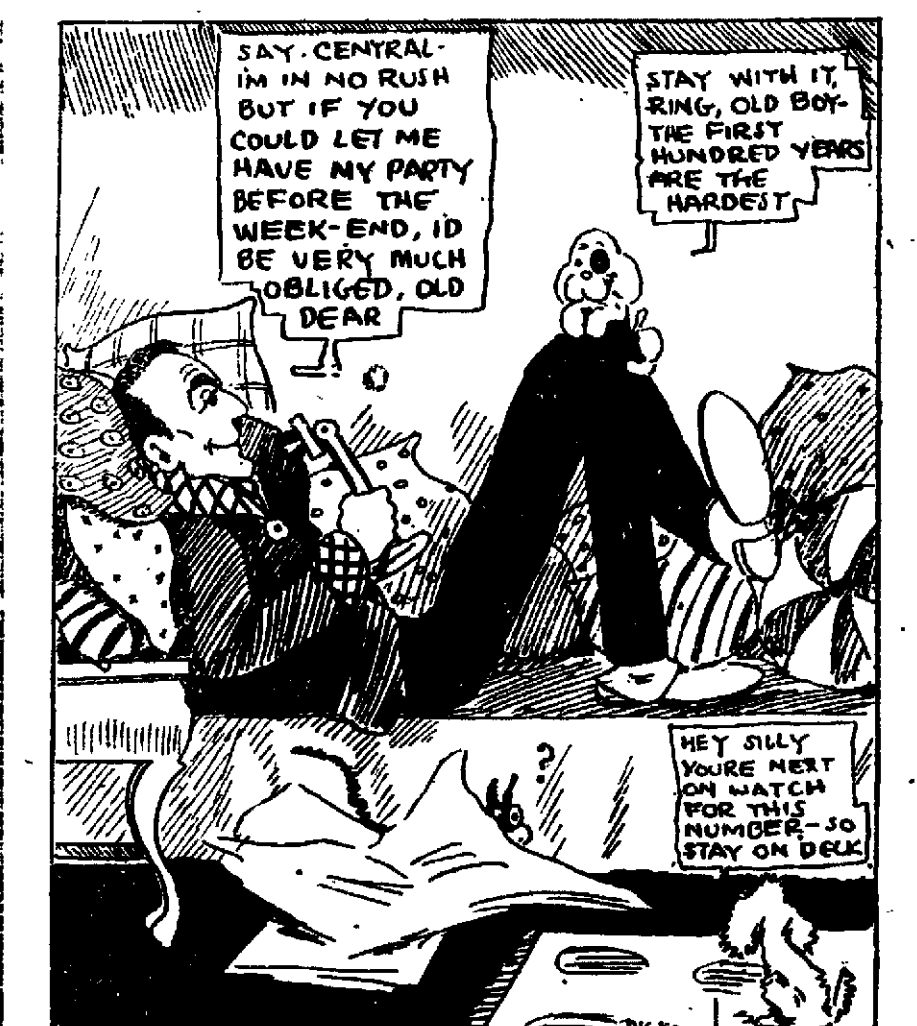

But of course that is all in the advertising code and the real useful information is in the middle of the page in small type on alphabet order like for instants it says the Brooklyn bridge was built in 1883 and is 35 ft. wide which gives a old timer like myself the confidence to cross across it because it is fixed that many yrs. maybe it will last till I get across it, and if its 35 ft. wide you not libel to bump into any look from Brooklyn.

"As all they half to do to kill a few days is try and get somebody on the telephone."

don't claim is useful but it says you can call for information free of charge but no pay for your time getting it, and also the Co. wants criticism but it should always be made by telephone instead of writing because if you do it by telephone, why by the time you reached the party it would be 2 or 4 yrs. later and the management would of changed hands.

All told it looks to me like the telephone which was made in Germany was enough excuse for us fighting them where as the telephone directory which was made in America is a work that should ought to go down in history like "Huckleberry Finn" or "Casey Jones" or something.

"Y" SPEAKERS ADDRESS NEWARK SHOP WORKERS

During the last two weeks at the noon-hour six factories have been visited by speakers on the program of the industrial department of the Y. M. C. A. Each of the factories has been visited twice giving a total attendance of 427 for the 12 visits. The factory employees are a very appreciative audience whatever the topic of the day may be. These chats at the noon-hour are instructive and helpful and fill in a constructive part of the loafing period following the lunch.

On account of National Thrift week being next week, the regular speakers will give way to the special speakers who are particularly interested in some phase of the economic program as outlined for Thrift week. The factory employees are looking forward to the special newspaper topics during Thrift Week. This will be taken care of by leading business men in Newark.

Today's article on National Thrift or Bank Day is written by Mr. W. C. Metz. Monday's article on National Life Insurance Day will be written by Mr. K. I. Dickerson.

MUNY COURT BAILIFF QUITS; SNYDER NAMED

Joseph Dolan, bailiff of the new municipal court has tendered his resignation to Judge Frank A. Bolten, and that official has appointed Willis Snyder of North Fifth street as his successor, that gentleman beginning his duties Monday next.

Bailiff Dolan gave as his reason for his resignation that there was too much work connected with the office for the $1,600 per year salary which it pays. He states that the bailiff of the municipal court must now do the work formerly done by the two constables of the old justices court and in addition must look after the business of the old mayor's court and the civil cases which are piling up in the municipal court.

Dolan was formerly employed at the American Bait Company plant and will probably again accept employment at that place.

HER LIFE FOR HER PUPPIES

Airedale Never Hesitated When Called Upon to Make the Supreme Sacrifice in Duty.

Again a mother has given her life for her young.

This time the setting is the San Francisco waterfront, down where whistles scream, shafts squeal and rattle, engines chug and there is a mechanical ensemble of industrial noise the long day through. The principals are dogs—a wire-haired Airedale mother and her four puppies.

A scow was home to the engine family. One day a swell overturned the basket in which the pups lay, and overboard they went. There was no human aid near. But the mother leaped to the rescue of her drowning offspring. One by one she brought the little pups to safety. But before she could reach the last one it drowned.

Men found her on deck, still holding the body of the dead puppy, and with the three others scrambling and whining around her. The mother was too exhausted to move. They sent for a physician, but when he arrived the rescued pups were orphans.

To the burden of her own six pups, an Irish setter who lives aboard the same scow, has added the care of three foster children, the orphans of the Airedale mother.

Baron Rempel Koodt, president of the Japan Mail Steamship company, said at a dinner that he gave recently in New York:

"The Japanese are a very clean people. I know as American traveler who will testify to this."

"The traveler, half Japanese, made his way one day into a Japanese in a remote Japanese village. The geisha girl ushered him into a spotless, airy room, and brought him a cup of unsweetened tea. As he could speak no Japanese, he tried to explain by signs that he wanted a full meal, but the girl, though she smiled politely, failed to understand."

"So the traveler thought he would resort to another means. He took out his notebook and pencil, drew a fish and an egg, and handed the drawing to the geisha. This time she laughed delightedly, clapping her hands and ran from the room."

"The traveler was pleased. He waited contentedly for his meal. Five or ten minutes passed. Then the door opened, and two attendants staggered in with a portable bath, brimful of hot water, and a cake of soap."

SHOWS HOW TO GET HEAT WITH LOW GAS

The Newark Natural Gas company is conducting a public demonstration at its office in West Main street, showing how the best service can be obtained from gas at a low pressure.

A representative of the company explained that the old time devices used when gas was plentiful and at a high pressure would not give any service now. Two stoves are placed in the office of the company. One a gas range, and the other a heater. The gauge shows that the pressure is slightly over a half ounce, yet the stoves give good service.

In order to get heat in a range it is necessary to have the burner not more than one and one-eighth inches from the vessel on the stove. The old burner sets too low in the stove to give heat.

The heater is equipped with a mixer which runs into a large tube. Three large feeds, give the gas to six burners. The heat is well distributed and good results are obtained. The gas company shows that while the gas pressure in the city has never been below one ounce and is usually three ounces, that even at one-half ounce, cooking and heating may be maintained.

The Greatest Question.
D. W. Griffith's latest production, "The Greatest Question," a photodrama embracing the most important problem of all ages, will be seen at the Auditorium theater today last times. they way into either literature or the motion picture with the gripping sensation that features Griffith's treatment of communion with the dead. Perhaps because of the many mothers who have lost sons through the Great War, Mr. Griffith brought forth his inspired source.
Those who expect a picture that staves the mentality to follow are scheduled for disappointment. Intrigue Griffith fashion the story takes place on a farm among a wretchedly poor but happy family of rural people. The war deprives the family of the support afforded by the only son. The prayers of a mother and her supplications for the safe return of her boy apparently go unheeded. The youth is swept from the spinning tower of a submarine when he prefers a death of self-sacrifice to risking the lives of other members of his under-water craft's crew. The shock of the lad's death shakes the faith of the entire family. Then a revelation, brought about in typical Griffith style, brings the family to a state that would even be a surprise to the foremost experts of the art of mysticism.

MADISON COREY AND THOMAS STARK
PRESENT THE MUSICAL SENSATION

THE GRASS WIDOW

NOTE WHAT THE WHEELING INTELLIGENCER OF WED. JAN. 14 SAID:

"THE GRASS WIDOW"
PLEASES PATRONS
OF THE COURT

"The Grass Widow," a wholesome musical comedy, opened at the Court theater last evening to a fair sized audience, one and all appreciating the tuneful melodies and laughing quite a bit at the funny maneuvers as well as taking kindly to the acting of the principals. The delightful music is from the pen of Louis Hirsch, composer of "Going Up" and "The Rainbow Girl." The comedy is the work of Channing Pollock and Renold Wolf. Putting together the comedy, the music and the dancing numbers, the performance is one that is full of life and which will please those who like snappy musical comedy. "The Grass Widow" has been playing to big houses enroute here, and comes very well boosted by the press.

There is an interesting story connected with the play which keeps up interest until the closing stages. Some of the big numbers are "Just You and Me," "The Song of Love," "The Letter," "What's the Use of Loving One Girl," brought the house to a continual uproar, and the audience expressed their feelings by applause which was of the simon-pure brand. The music is the big feature and keeps the audience in a good humor, oftentimes leading into the tapping of feet. There are other songs equally melodious, joyous and of that soul stirring sort which will please.

A chorus especially fitted to a musical comedy adds the necessary finishing touches. The girls are all pretty and young and very easy to gaze upon. Several extra musicals are carried by the company and the cast includes Miss Theodore Warfield, who takes the leading role. She is winning in her manners and scores a decided hit, being modest and accepting the applause in an unconcerned manner. Charles Clear is the big comedian and gave the "Girl" recitation-song and is ever in the limelight. Chester Millar, baritone, is one of the best singers of the lot. Others in the company are Edith Allan, Frank DeMont, Arthur Millar, Tom O'Hare and Gracia DeMont. There will be a special matinee today, the stay closing tonight.

"The Grass Widow" is one of those class musical comedies that borders on comic opera and is really one of the most delightful offerings seen here in some time. It is deserving of big audiences today.

"The Grass Widow"
The attraction announced at the Auditorium next Tuesday is Manager Corey and Stark's production of Channing Pollock and Renold Wolf's joyous melodious sparkling musical "The Grass Widow" with music by Louis Hirsch, composer of "Going Up" and "The Rainbow Girl" which comes from the Liberty and Princess theaters, New York and theater-goers are promised the treat of the season.

The wit, the satire and the brilliant comedy and the clean, consistent story of life, youth and love, find in the plot of "The Grass Widow" exemplifications of the purest diction upon the English speaking stage. Added to this, the music of Hirsch with its lilting melodies, its musical gems, and its ripples of fascinating airs and one can easily perceive that an evening of enchanting enjoyment may be had.

To the clever story and beautiful music has been given a stage setting, splendidly gorgeous in its charm and environment. The company is said to be of a high order. The chorus, one of distinction and the lyrics and song numbers the most entrancing. Some of the songs and there are many are: "The Song of Love," "What's the Use of Loving One Girl," "Just You and Me," "The Letter," "Somewhere there is Someone for Me" and "You can't be a Husband Today." Seats now on sale.

"Sometime"
Frank Tinney, that inimitable cut-up as the chief laugh-provoker in Arthur Hammerstein's merry musical romance "Sometime," is the attraction of special note which Manager Hammerstein will offer at the Auditorium starting tomorrow evening. ONE NIGHT ONLY—WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 21ST

To the AMUSEMENT LOVING PEOPLE OF NEWARK AND VICINITY:

It has been my good fortune to secure for next Wednesday the Big New York Grand Case Production, Inc., of "Sometime," with Frank Tinney. When I first got an inkling that I might be able to secure this company for Newark, I wired Mr. Arthur Hammerstein, the owner, offering to buy the attraction for $1400, below I give his reply:

Mr. Geo. Fenberg, Auditorium, Newark, Ohio.
Your wire with offer of guarantee $1400 for "Sometime," and beg to state that is impossible. The reason for Tinney playing Wheeling, Newark, Pontiac and Ann Arbor, then into Detroit, is because there is small box in Toronto where we were originally booked. We are only giving these six performances and expect to lose in the vicinity of $1500 and that is just Tinney's salary. In other words we would have to pay him whether we played or not. Tinney has not played a week this season under $1500 and the show is the biggest of the week stands. Now we have no free list and the prices for this show must be $2.00 and $2.50. You have one of the best attractions of the season, now go after business as you have for other attractions and I might give you "Somebody's Sweetheart" later. ARTHUR HAMMERSTEIN.

NOW SHOW GOERS

I personally guarantee this attraction. Let's give them capacity. Thanking you for patronage in the past and hoping we will show Hammerstein that Newark is a Real Show TOWN, I remain Yours for good clean amusement,

Geo. M. FENBERG.

overwhelming success. "You're in Love," "Kathinka," "High Jinks," "The Flirt," and "Naughty Marietta," has the added charm of containing more real song hits than a half dozen others of the usual brand of musical comedy. "The Book of Lyrics of 'Some Time'" were written by Roda Johnson Young who has given us "Maytime" while the music score supplied by Rudolph Friml. In one of the best this talented composer has yet evolved. Among the most alluring song numbers are "Picking Peaches," "Keep on Smiling," "Some Time," "Spanish Maid," "The Tune You Can't Forget," "Oh, Argentine," "Beautiful Night," "Baby Doll," which she controls with ease. Elsie Ferguson, the beautiful Arcturion star, provides several thrilling scenes in her latest photoplay, "Heart of the Wilds," which will be the main attraction at the Alhambra theater next Monday and Tuesday. This is one of several unusual incidents which contribute to make this picture one of the finest of its kind ever produced.

When Miss Ferguson, accompanied by Director Marshall Neilan and her supporting players went to Wyoming to produce the great outdoor scenes of the photoplay, it was necessary for Miss Ferguson to make a daring horseback trip in a rough country, along the edge of high cliffs and down nar-

A Misfit Earl.

Louis Bennison knows how to pursue the makings of a laugh in every situation in which he finds himself. This talent is delightfully exploited in his latest Betzwood production, "A Misfit Earl," by Wilson Bayley, which Goldwyn is showing today last times at the Alhambra.

The star finds himself heir to the fortune of an English lord and decides to sail for England to claim his share of his ancestor's estate. Knowing row precipitous foot paths. When the one of them reach the top notch point of popular favor and are likely to outdo some of Mr. Friml's previous compositions which still give no evidence of falling behind.

"Give me a spirited animal," she said laughingly. "One that will necessitate generalship to handle."

So it came about that when the athletic actress mounted an unruly animal and with a few deft applications of her quirt brought the pony to complete subjection, expert cowpunchers marveled greatly thereat until they learned that Miss Ferguson is one of the most skilled horsewomen in the country.

LYRIC

The final showing of the Fashionettes will be at the Lyric this evening. This clever troop has given splendid satisfaction for the past week. Tomorrow, Texas Guinan in "The She Wolf" will be shown, also a splendid Christie comedy, and a musical program will be rendered. All next week Fred Hurley's "Oh Listen Girls" will be on the boards.

nothing of continental conventions and caring less. Louis Bennison as Jim Dunn arrives at the castle and is greeted by a formal line of servants. His loose-fitting Western cowboy costume impresses the old servants with the thought that they are receiving a dangerous character, one who would stop at nothing to satisfy his desires. Consequently, their obsequiousness is more noticeable than on ordinary occasions. And to one with the simple habit of always waiting on himself their all too evident desire to serve amused and disgusted Jim.

At dinner in the huge dining hall butlers and waiters were jumping over each other to anticipate his every wish. But a large room with a large table, and no company but mute servants, wasn't homey enough for the hero. Beyond the door he heard the subdued laughter of the other servants at their evening meal, and the sound upset all his interest in the food set before him.

Heart of the Wilds.
Riding a wild and unruly mustang

Do you heed the red flags at the crossings of life?

Nature always warns you of approaching danger

Just as railroads place flagmen at crossings to warn of the approaching trains, so nature sends out flagmen in warning of the approach of some danger to good health.

Probably the greatest number of these warnings come from the digestive tract to which it is said at least 90 per cent of all human illness may be traced. You spend a great deal of time in guarding good health by attention to such organs as the teeth, mouth and throat.

But—what attention do you give to the intestinal tract, the poor working of which may cause much greater misery and distress? To provide protection for the stomach and digestive tract, Partola

—"The Doctor in Candy Form"—was especially invented. It is a modern combination of laxative and antiseptic ingredients which not only does all that ANY laxative can do, but, in addition, tends to sterilize and disinfect the digestive tract and helps provide protection against the disease germs which are said to breed there.

Partola comes in the form of delicious, palatable peppermint lozenges and is truly as delicious as bon-bons. It is liked by young and old. Get Partola from your druggist today and keep it in your home at all times for all members of the family. Sold at all good drug stores in 25c, 50c and $1.00 boxes. Get yours today.

Chicago Grain Review.
Chicago, Jan. 17.—Fresh declines took place in the value of corn today largely as a result of selling based on opinions that a period of downward readjustment of prices was at hand. Opening quotations, which ranged from 1 1/4 to 3 1/4 lower, with May 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 and July 1 3/4 to 1 3/8 5/8, were followed by a moderate further setback.

Provisions were weak owing to downturns in the value of hogs and grain. Some sign of liquidation appeared.

Wall Street.
New York, Jan. 17.—Short covering and moderate buying to the long account resulted in a number of small gains at the lively opening of the stock market. The issues that attracted investors' sharp interest were General Motors and high price of oil were foremost in the rally at 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 points. Tobacco and sugar also rose briskly. There was little buying for rails, but changes in that direction were mainly upward. Further attempts on the part of professional traders to depress prices during the day's brief stock market session.

BOTH SLIGHTLY IN ERROR
Physician and Lovessick Youth Were Alike Too Quick to Jump to Conclusions.

There's a certain physician in Los Angeles who admits the joke's on him. Incidentally, he will shortly lose his daughter. He tells it this way: "I was in my study when the door was flung open and in came Jack. I know him well, and just a glance told me that he was far from being his usual self. Indeed, he looked positively ill.

"Without waiting for him to speak I commenced an examination. His heart was fluttering, his brow was fever heat, his pulse was racing.

"I sprang toward the phone, crying over my shoulder, 'You're a case for the hospital, young man.' "Sure," he admitted; "but you might have let me ask you first!" "Ask me what? I demanded in astonishment.

"I want to marry your daughter," he said, and then I realized that I had made the wrong diagnosis and that he had misconstrued my reference to the hospital."—Los Angeles Times.

HISTORIANS HAVE NOT SAID
Of Course There is Just a Possibility That Mrs. Patrick Henry Was Unsympathetic.

They were having one of the usual family quarrels over his having been at a meeting at the Commercial club while she was "at home all alone and so lonesome."

"You don't wish me to have any city or country spirit, either," he finally told her hotly. "I wonder where our country would be today if all the men who have lived in it had stayed at home and petted their wives all their off hours as you are wanting me to do for you?"

"Well, the women always suffer," she retorted. "Public men never have time to appreciate their wives and sympathize with—"

GEORGIA FARMS.
Land is the basis of all value. The value of land is estimated by its production reduced to dollars and cents. Improved Georgia Farm Land, the production of which per acre is of greater value than the best Ohio lands, can be purchased at prices ranging from $16.00 to $60.00 per acre on easy terms. Usually one-third cash and the balance on terms to suit purchaser. These farms will net the purchaser from ten to twenty per cent and in our opinion will at least double in value within five years. Write for particulars.

Church Street Hat Shop

Open For Business

The Church Street Hat Shop at 35 West church street is now open for business. This store was recently purchased by the owner of The Mohr Hat Shop in the Arcade and will be conducted independent of this business. The interior of the room of the Church Street Hat Shop has been remodeled and refurnished into one of the most attractive salesrooms in the city. New fixtures and decorations have been installed which enables the exhibit of their displays to good advantage. It is the intention of the management to make this an exclusive $5 hat shop and all hats shown at this store will be priced at $5, no more or no less. This is an entirely new feature in Newark and is one which is only carried on in the larger cities. The same high grade merchandise will be carried in this store that has been found at The Mohr Hat Shop and the values will prove the greatest offered at the price. All the leading styles and shapes in ladies hats are on display and the quality of materials are such that you would pay much more money for elsewhere. By making a special feature of this priced hats the management can buy in larger quantities and thereby demand the best prices the market affords. The patrons are given the advantage of this buying power by the opportunity that is given to purchase exceptional millinery values at a moderate price. 1-17-12

Engineer Paralyzed.
James Clark, a B. & O. engineer suffered a stroke of paralysis while working on a yard engine in Shawnee Friday morning. He is some better today.

Plans Local Campaign.
Rev. P. E. Wright will go to Baltimore Monday to conduct an evangelistic campaign. On his return to Newark he will open up an intensive campaign in East Newark and will be assisted by Evangelist O. E. Williams of Warren, Pa. The East Main Street U. B. church is organized for any work and is being drilled by leaders for the campaign.

Former Newark Woman.
W. E. Foley of North Fifth street was called to Bethlehem, Pa., on account of the illness of his aunt Mrs. Henry Brown who suffered a stroke of paralysis. Mrs. Brown formerly lived in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Spangler (Anna Lavery) of Columbus, announce the birth of a son, Robert Leonard, January 12th.

Making Play Pay.
A Bay City sociologist urges all fathers to learn to play games of make-believe with their children, whatever the expenses of energy or time, saying it will in the end prove well worth while, and we can fully agree with this because of the excellent results we have already obtained pretending we are the sleeping child when Santa Claus comes, or the black bear that has holed up for the winter when the Indian comes hunting for him.—Detroit News.

Australia's Search for Oil.
While thoroughly testing Papua and German Guinea, with British assistance, for oil wells, Australia is also looking within her own borders. The prime minister, Mr. Hughes, has announced that the federal government will pay a bonus of $5,000 for the discovery of commercial oil in the commonwealth. Probably the discovery of oil in payable quantities in Great Britain has encouraged the Dominion government.

They Should Worry!
"I'm afraid raw sugar is going to be scarce."
"That will make no difference to us. We always use the cooked kind."
—Cleveland Press.

New Process for Drying Beets.
By the recently devised new process in sugar making, it is claimed that nearly 70 per cent of the water of beet roots can be extracted on the spot where they are grown. Thus dried, the material keeps indefinitely; it can be transported to places where fuel is plentiful, even over long distances; and it can be accumulated in stocks sufficient to keep factories running continuously, instead of requiring to be used up in a short season. The same process is suggested for treating fruits and vegetables designed for industrial-alcohol distilleries.

Shoe Mending at Home.
The calling-up of the village boot-maker or "cobbler" has seriously affected domestic convenience in many rural districts.
His importance is suddenly recognized, and his loss has, in several isolated midland hamlets, given a remarkable stimulus to shoe-mending at home.

Technical classes in sewing, beading and patching have been arranged, and country women are rapidly acquiring the art of cobbling. Lady Petre declares that it should be as natural to do this at home as to darn stockings. —London Chronicle.

HERE TO REPRESENT PERU

Frederico A. Pezet is the first Ambassador from That Country in the United States.

Peru has been added to the list of Latin-American states maintaining embassies in Washington, states the New York Tribune. The first ambassador, Frederico A. Pezet, has arrived in this country and the state department seems inclined to annul for his benefit its famous Costa Rican "house rule," to the effect that no diplomatic recognition can be given to a Latin-American government coming into power through revolution. President Leguia assumed control in Lima by force last year and exiled his predecessor, doing so on the ground that he has been elected president by the people for a term to begin a few months later and that the administration in office was planning to count him out.

Mr. Pezet will be welcomed as the representative of Peru, a state which has always had the most friendly relations with the United States. He served here formerly both as first secretary of legation and as minister. He knows this country thoroughly, speaks English as well as he does Spanish and enjoys in an exceptional degree the esteem of government and other circles in Washington, in which he has long been, at home.

SEEK FOR TRADE IN ARCTIC

Boston Capitalists Form Organization Something Like the Famous Hudson's Bay Company.

Word has just come out of the North of a rival to the Hudson's Bay company that has sprung up. It is an organization backed by Boston interests and its aim is to get a share of the trade that the "Ancient and Honorable Association of Adventurers" has monopolized for over a century. Last spring Capt. Louis Lane of Nome, Alaska, was sent into the Arctic to establish a string of 28 trading posts for the Boston body.

The expedition went into the North via Calgary, Alberta, with eight carloads of goods, of an estimated value of $240,000. In addition to this they sent in a river power boat for operation on the Mackenzie river. The vessel was sent in sections and assembled on the big river. The party worked slowly down the river, canvassing and exploring among the tribes and only reached Fort Macpherson when winter came. They will stay there until spring opens the river and allows them to proceed further. The company intends locating its posts by the pioneering party, and will then keep them supplied by means of ships from Nome during the short summer.

Reasonable Expectation.

"Ah, how do you do, sir?" saluted the suave salesman of enlarged crayon portraits, as the householder opened the door. "I am offering—My stars! Is that revolver loaded?"

"I reckon," replied Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge. "Leastways, 'twas the last time I noticed."

"Heavens and earth, man! What do you suppose will happen if you permit that little child to continue to amuse himself with the weapon?"

"He'll probably break the hammer off'n it on one of the other children's heads. I've told 'em a time or two to quit letting him have it, but you know how children is."—Kansas City Star.

Schooldays.

In a physiology recitation during a discussion of the organs of breathing, a sixth grade girl, when asked what the diaphragm was, replied: "It is something that if we didn't have we'd go all out of shape when we breathed."

The teacher in assigning a lesson in the fifth grade geography ended by saying: "The question need not be answered by written answer; the answers must be in your head." There was a general laugh when a boy raised his hand and asked, "Must I hand it in?"

Girl Mines Coal.

Pittsburgh lays claim to the only girl coal miner in America and probably in the world. Miss Ricka Ott is her name and she is just twenty-one years old and very attractive. But she is a coal miner, and is proud of it. In addition, she is a coal operator, truck driver, farmer and general "jack of all trades." Back in the hills of Mount Oliver, a suburb, she was discovered merrily wheeling her black diamonds from the little pit in the hillside.

Filipino Take to Athletics.

Since our soldiers in the early days of American occupation held their first athletic contest in the Philippines the natives of the islands have taken an active interest in many forms of athletics and sports popular in the western world. It was not, however, until rivalry between towns and provinces was created that a deep general interest in every form of sport was developed, the majority of the people considering this indulgence a useless waste of energy.

Ludendorff and the Germans.

Representative Fess was talking about Ludendorff's memoirs.

"Ludendorff's present day attitude toward the German people and the German people's attitude toward him are pretty clearly shown in this work," he said. "It reminds one of the lawyer."

"I'm sorry I couldn't do more for you," the lawyer said to his client.

"Don't mention it," said the client. "Any eight years' enough?"

RED LEADERS

American or German sort," she said, "can never be suppressed."

Berkman is under contract to write for an American monthly publication a series of articles about former American prison wardens, among them Thomas Mott Osborne. He will also write a number of Russian sketches, he said. Asked if the reds would labor or would confine their activities to politics, Berkman replied they would be employed in mines, but "naturally would participate in political matters."

He declared he would form "a league of Russian friends of America," the efforts of which would reciprocate those of American friends of Russia. Of the latter organization, he said:

"It has grown so sentimentally respectable that even former President Taft is a member."

During the three days' journey from Kiel to Hango, the voyage was dangerous in the extreme because mines in the Baltic have not been removed by the German government, according to various officers of the Buford who left the boat for a visit to this little town. An expert named Schmidt was in charge of the vessel, switching the ship around in wide curves or turning sharp angles.

Once he stopped during the night while the rudder chains ground with a fearful sound. Matters became worse the second night out when a mysterious and mutilated wireless message was received ordering a different port of debarkation than had been originally planned. This caused a delay in landing here.

While the Buford was at Kiel it became known that three sailors had climbed over the side, taken a stolen

BOLSHEVIST GOVT. IS TOLD OF REDS' ARRIVAL

Helsingfors, Friday, Jan. 16—Finnish authority has informed the Soviet government of Russia of the plan to send Alexander Berkman, Emma Goldman and their comrades across the border.

But no reply has as yet been received from the Bolsheviks. The Finnish communication requested that the Bolshevik troops cease firing when the party makes its appearance.

The Russians deported from America will be placed on board locked cars and taken to Terijoki, about two miles from the frontier, accompanied by a Finnish military guard and a detachment of American marines.

There are two ways of entering Soviet Russia. The first is across a bridge near Terijoki, where the Bolshevik and Finnish lines are drawn along the banks of a little river. The other is further north towards Rautu, where the respective lines are separated by a thick forest.

The former is the most direct route and, if used, the American reds will safely reach Soviet territory. The other is known as "the route of death," owing to the large number of political prisoners who have been despatched in the forest after having been deported.

People of Finland, acquainted with the history of deportations are keenly interested to learn which route will be chosen.

Progressive Short-Sightedness

YOUNG people particularly school children, who are short-sighted, and who use their eyes almost constantly for some hours each day, often have this defect in a progressive form. That is, the short-sightedness gradually becomes more pronounced. Glasses as soon as possible are indicated in this condition. Parents should bring their children to us for examination.

OHIO FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

Columbus bids fair to have a downtown club-house for women. The first really certain action looking to this project was taken by the Columbus Federation of Women's Clubs, when Mrs. J. A. Riebel, federation president, named a committee to “put it over.” Out-of-town club women will be much interested in the success of this movement for the reason that so many of them are in child welfare work and will be at the opportunity of “dropping in” at a centrally-located women's club-house.

Marion claims the honor of having within its federation fold the first club in the state to sell, the Red Cross seals. It is the Advance club, a member of the Ohio and General federations, and one of the oldest federated clubs in Marion county. Mrs. J. W. Freeland, former president of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs, and long active in club work, has been Marion county's Red Cross seals agent since 1911.

The Woman's club at Shadydale, near Delaware, reports that it is making a special effort this year in child welfare work and already has a neat sum to be used for that purpose.

Two hundred women were guests of the Research club at the Deshler in Columbus last week, when the Columbus annual welfare day celebration was held. Club work was discussed in addresses by Mrs. Sharp, state federation president, and Mrs. Riebel, Columbus federation president.

A concert by the Dayton Women's Music club, choruses and given the first of the month in Dayton at the Engineer's club and proved one of the splendid treats of the winter. This club has arranged for the Cleveland String quartet to appear in Dayton at the annual club dinner February 16.

Mrs. Alverda Smits and Miss Henrietta Owen Ludlow, both of the Dayton Women's Music club, gave a fine program for the Music club at Washington C. H., January 2.

It's funny a woman don't shut a car door when she gets out without thinking. I never knowed a woman might be called a successful one that could quote poetry.

Some books are edibles to stand as they are built; some are brown stones ready to form a part of future edifices; some are quarries from which stones are to be split for slumping and after use.—Hobbes.

DOES WELL WITH ONE ARM

Apocryphal our recent photograph on feats performed by armless men, a contributor, who lost his right arm when he was a youth, sends an interesting account of the ingenious manner in which he carries on in spite of his handicap.

“I get up at seven o'clock,” he says, “wash, shave, scrub my finger-nails by holding a small nail-brush between my teeth, and dress myself without any help. To fill a pipe and strike a match is an easy matter, while years ago I learned to write with my left hand.”

“I often play whist, and can place my cards together as quickly as anyone. But I find my chief delight and enjoyment in playing the piano or organ. I love both. I do not play with my left hand only, but play the lower notes with a stick in my mouth.”

“I can open a boiled egg and eat it as quickly as anyone with their two hands, while in regard to wrapping up a parcel and securing the same with string, I challenge any grocer to do the job more neatly.”

“Peeling an apple is quite simple. I can open a penknife in an instant.”

“No one need despair who has lost one of their arms. It is awkward at first, but after a few weeks it is surprising what one can do for themselves. So to all who have lost an arm I say: ‘Cheerio! It might have been worse!’”—London Tit-Bits.

WENT TO HEAVEN IN AUTO

Novelty in Burning of Effigy of Machine at the Grave of Wealthy Chinaman.

It is the custom of the Chinese to burn various kinds of effigies at the funeral ceremonies of the rich, and the more wealthy the departed the more elaborate the figures burned over his grave. These effigies represent every manner of thing, such as human figures, horses, sedan chairs, tables loaded with money, etc.

At the funeral of a Mr. Li, who died a short time ago in Tientsin, and who was a very wealthy man, the bereaved family outdid themselves, and made an imitation of the deceased gentleman's automobile, to be burned at his grave. The effigy was made entirely of strong Chinese paper stretched on bamboo frames. The car was complete in every detail, the pedals accurately placed, and all made of paper and bamboo.

The interior of the car was also accurate in detail, being carefully upholstered in paper. The car was carried about three miles through crowded streets to the graveside, where a match was applied, and it was consumed in a few minutes.

Ancient Mesopotamia.

Survey research work in Mesopotamia has revealed the fact that in former times the country was covered with a network of canals, showing that a very celebrated system of irrigation must then have been in vogue. Some of these canals were 20 feet deep with steep embankments. This interesting information was stated by Lieut. Col. G. A. Beazley, royal engineers, in a lecture given by him at the British Royal Geographical society recently. He also brought to light the fact that the city of Samarra, which is now a comparatively unimportant town, at a period before the Christian era must have been one of the most populous trading centers of the East. The ancient city was 20 miles in length and 2½ in width, and it is estimated that it contained about 4,000,000 inhabitants. There were miles of walls and warehouses, and it formed a converging point for caravans from a vast area. Another city in Mesopotamia, the lecturer said, showed traces of having been laid out on the lines of a modern American city.

Government Newspaper.

It is not generally known that in case the recent railwaymen's dispute in Great Britain had developed into a general strike, and the public had been unable to obtain its customary newspapers, arrangements had been made for the production of a government daily.

It was to contain no editorial views whatever, but simply a record of what was happening at home and abroad.

Five million copies would have been circulated by a squadron of 150 aeroplanes. The government's idea was that the dangers of a general strike would be enormously enhanced if the general public did not know what was going on.

Community Singing.

“I see community singing is becoming a fad in many towns.”

“What is it?”

“The merry villagers' idea boosted a notch. I take it.”

“How?”

“Instead of dancing on the green, we assemble in community centers and mingle our voices in jazz madrigals and syncopated glees.”—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Air Travel de Luxe.

The airship “T-35” has been making a tour of the French battlefields, says the London Sphere, and it carried a chef and gave its passengers French roasting, and real beef, with sheets. “On September 15,” says the same paper, “during a flight from Amsterdam to England, this lunch was served on a passenger airplane: Salmon mayonnaise, cold chicken, fruit salad and wine.”—From the Outlook.

The Art of Resting.

The girl who is anticipating an evening of rare enjoyment, should insure her beauty by resting before it. She should get at least eight hours sleep in every twenty four and, in addition, a short nap in the daytime. If she does not go to sleep easily when she retires, or does not sleep well, let her prepare a warm bath, not hot but just sink, in which there shall be some of her favorite toilet water.

If she will rest in this for ten minutes, then sponge off with lukewarm water and rub her body well afterward, I will guarantee that she will, at once, sink peacefully into the most restful of slumbers, once she has jumped into her bed, pulled up the soft covers and has inhaled deeply of the fresh air, which should always be allowed to enter the bedroom through an open window at night.

Aside from resting the girl who wishes to gain her full share of beauty should drink plenty of pure, fresh water. The water should be taken between meals, or when not eating. It may be taken a glass at a time or more if wished. A large glass full should be taken before breakfast and then at hour intervals between the other meals. It will be found that the appetite will not be as large, but that will do no harm, in fact will be rather better for the whole system.

Some young women, inclined to be stout, declare that a Turkish bath agrees with the system and is a sure aid to losing weight. However, be sure that such treatment is not too severe and it is well to seek the advice of your physician before taken such baths.

Our Boys and Girls

The retentive period in a child is usually at the best when they are about five years of age. After that, they are carefully trained, gradually it begins to weaken. It is very easy to teach a little one, first a few lines, and then several verses of a simple poem, by reading them over and over, their minds being full of long and intricate poems.

It must not be forgotten that the period of infancy is a period of education, often of greater consequence than any other years of life. Not only are all the organs and functions given their primary educations, but the faculties of the mind, as well, receive their initial impulses that determine largely their direction and efficiency through life.

Everyday Etiquette

“Are the guests at a debutante's reception expected to send gifts of flowers?” asked Bert.

“The answer is not necessarily expected to send flowers but it is a nice thing for a young man to do,” advised his older friend.

Instinct of Birds.

The circumstance of the bluebirds being emboldened by the cold, suggests the fact that the fear of man, which now seems like an instinct in the birds, is evidently an acquired trait, and foreign to them in a state of primitive nature. Every gunner has observed, to his chagrin, how wild the pigeons become after a few days of firing among them; and, to his delight, how easy it is to approach near his game in new or unfrequented woods.—J. L. W.
